Heater core:

The aluminum structure of our heater core have a strong corrosion resistance, the high strength braze welding joint increase the durability. We pay great attentions to the quality control and the reliability, and carry on the following experiment: lifetime test of alternating pressure and fast alternating pressure; 100% visual examinations and leak detection of heater core; thermal cycling life test under high pressure; the calorimeter examination; anti vibration and anti-corrosion/erosion test; the inspection of combination points; the blasting test under static pressure.
